

COURTLY MUSIC UNLIMITED

Invites you to an autumn RECORDER WORKSHOP

Experience the joys of in-person music-making

Two Days – Saturday November 4 and Sunday November 5

Autumn in the Adirondacks – just a few leaves will be left on the trees, the days grow shorter, the starlit nights are longer, the bears are in their dens ready for a long sleep so the bird feeders can go back up for the winter. It's time to pull the flannel shirts out of the closet. The perfect time for gathering indoors and playing music with friends, both new and old. Saturday begins the two day process of rehearsing as an ensemble to create beautiful sounds. By the second day of rehearsing the ensemble solidifies producing a wonderful musical experience for all.

*Richie will lead you in exploring compositions by composers from the Renaissance to the 21st Century. To set the mood he will start the playing with an antiphonal composition, 1621 by Michael Altenburg, next Georg P. Telemann's entertaining Don Quixote Suite, 1817 by Gaetano Donizetti, and from the 21 Century two Marg Hall works Sunrise to Sunset and Scottish Border Suite.*
